39p. 22cm.

In Tracts on finance & commerce. Vol. 11.

The Cause of the present threatened famine traced to its real source, viz. an actual depreciation on our circulating medium, occasioned by the paper currency, with which the war, the shock given to public credit in 1794, the stoppage of the bank in 1787, and the bankruptcies of Hamburg in 1799, inundated the country, to accommodate government, and enable the merchants to keep up the price of their merchandize. Shewing, by an arithmetical calculation, founded on facts, the extent, nay, the very mode of the progress, which the paper system has made in reducing the people to paupers. With its only apparent practicable remedy. By Common Sense. London, Printed by and for R. B. Scott, 1800.

5 p.l., [5]-36p. 22cm.

Bound with: The discharge of 37,000,000l. of the national debt, demonstrated to be part of the cause of the rapid dearness of provisions that has taken place within the last ten years . . .
